It's hard to put into words where to begin, but one thing is certain—IndianOil has played a transformative role in my life. As a girl from a small state, I never imagined working with such a prestigious organization, especially in a field like sports where opportunities for women are so limited. IndianOil's initiative to launch a women's hockey team was a groundbreaking step, and being a part of it still feels like a dream. Every athlete dreams of soaring high, and IndianOil has been the wind beneath my wings, enabling me to rise beyond limits. I am deeply grateful to IndianOil for believing in me, supporting me, and giving me the strength to move forward and achieve my dreams.
