"IndianOil has been the backbone of my journey as a female hockey player, supporting me at every step and empowering me to represent my country with pride. While many are quick to support established players, IndianOil believed in me when I was still striving to make my mark at the beginner level. Their faith in emerging talent like mine is a testament to their vision for sports in the country. The financial security and stability they provide have not only helped my career but also ensured my family's well-being.

I am incredibly honoured and blessed to be part of the IndianOil family. Their commitment to nurturing budding players and supporting athletes across various sports is truly inspiring. IndianOil doesn't just fuel the nation; it fuels dreams, and I am proud to be a part of this extraordinary journey."
